HELLO FELLOW MEMBERS!

Today it's my delight taking the chance for the 1st time to express a few words to you:

First, I would like to thank you for our unforgettable 1st annual meeting in Muscat from the bottom of my heart.

To be honest, the expectations were very high and the preparation gave us some sweat stains not only with regard to the humidity and temperatures in Muscat, which certainly did not remain hidden in one or the other place ;) And although not everything worked out 100% - as one always wishes most oneself - we left Muscat with a thoroughly positive impression, a happy heart and therefore also with a sad eye. It was indescribable to finally meet you in 3-D after this long time.

We hope very much that also for you a few beautiful moments were thereby and you likewise - despite the enormous heat - a few beautiful hours in memory can keep and many new contacts could establish, which in ideal cases also with a long friendship and common projects go along.

To stay on the joyful topic of annual meeting:

It's my pleasure to hereby announce the new date for our 2nd Annual Meeting as follows

September 10-12, 2023 (September 13, 2023 Leisure Day) in Dublin.

I sincerely hope to see you there again at the latest. On the other hand and in case you don't wanna wait that long, please let us know in our questionnaire or meet and visit us in Bremen in between, if it should be compatible with your schedule. Please don't hesitate letting us know at any time.

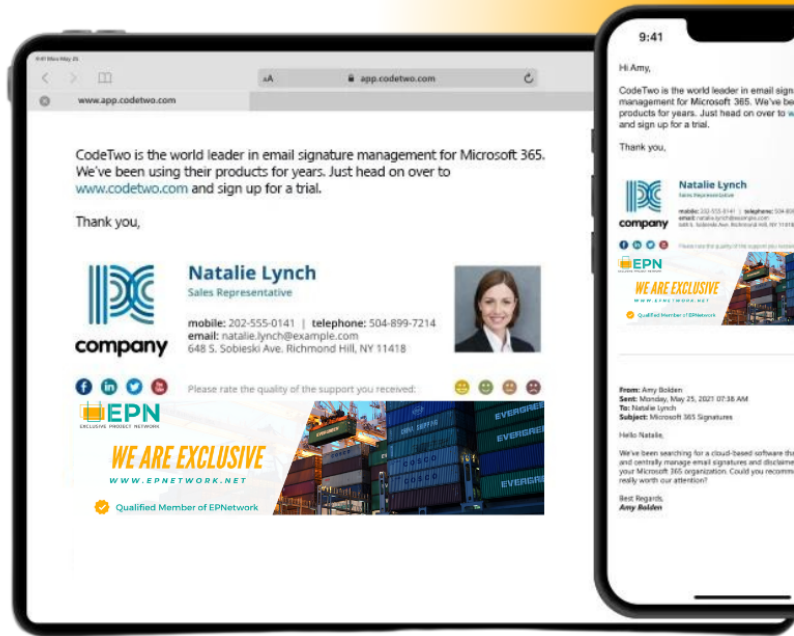

Ps. At this point one little reminder:

Please don't forget to inform us about your participation in our new WhatsApp group. Thanks a lot dears Looking forward to chat with you.

We are always happy about your feedback and now I hope you enjoy our Part 4 of our magazine for 2022 in the following pages.

Wishing you a blissed holiday season with your loved ones and a Happy New Year 2023.

U.S. West Coast Ports Beat Congestion, But Slowdowns at Houston Remain

HOT NEWS

Congestion has cleared up at the twin ports of Los Angeles and Long Beach, which together make up the busiest container-terminal complex in the United States. But the slowdown hasn't gone away: Instead, the same overabundance of cargo can now be found at Houston, which is the biggest container port on the U.S. Gulf Coast.

"We currently see a lack of storage in Houston, as well as minimal chassis availability and vessel congestion at Houston area terminals," said Paul Brashier, VP of Drayage and Intermodal for ITS Logistics, in the company's latest supply chain index report. "Houston is seeing higher inbound volumes, a chassis imbalance and terminal congestion above normal levels."

U.S. WEST COAST PORTS BEAT CONGESTION, BUT SLOWDOWNS AT HOUSTON REMAIN

You can read the full article HERE

According to Brashier, the congestion at Houston is the end result of a long cascade of cargo overflow, which began with the severe backlogs on the West Coast last year, then spread to the East Coast in mid-2021 and eventually reached the Gulf.

Reacting to the slowdowns in San Pedro Bay in early 2021, American importers began to shift cargo to eastern gateways, bringing long dwell times and vessel delays with them. When the East Coast's big ports became too busy, shippers began to send more containers to Houston instead. In January 2022, Houston saw a 27 percent rise in containerized traffic year-on-year, leading to a shortage of space. According to ITS, Houston is seeing "higher inbound volumes, a chassis imbalance and terminal congestion above normal levels."
